

I am one of multitude of satellite radio subscribers disturbed how the National Association of Broadcasters is pressuring congress and the FCC to stifel satellite radio from offering local services to select markets. We should all be in favor of letting broadcasting evolve to the embetterment of us all. This forces broadcasters to offer the public better services. However, the NAB as in the past wants to squash every new technological advance in broadcasting. They tried to stifel Television, FM radio, now they want to put the hammer on satellite radio. It is up to Congress and the FCC to see this is not done. I along with the over million satellite radio subscribers will be watching voting records and will speak through the ballot box this November if congress sacrifices the evolution of broadcasting to satisfy the National Association of Broadcasters.
